

Data and Privacy File Guides

iCloud Mail: Push Devices

May 2025

File name Push Devices.csv

File description This contains information about a user's devices that receive push notifications from iCloud Mail.

Why Apple keeps this information Apple retains this information in order to send (and know when to send) push notifications to the user's devices for new emails.

Field Name	Details
Device ID	The unique device identifier of a user's device for which email notifications are enabled
Device Status	The status of the device ("Active" or "Deprovisioned")
Device Timestamp	Timestamp for the last push registration
Receiving Folders for Push Notifications	Indicates which folders will create a push notification
Send Push Notificaiton	Indicates what senders the push notification should be completed for ("All," "VIP," or "None")
TokenID	Token associating the device to the subscribed topic